

How to Grow Chrysanthemums

The hardy garden cushion mum is the most popular symbol of fall. With bright cheery blooms and a hardy disposition, it makes a great choice for fall gardens.

For new plants: Situate your plant in an area that receives at least 6 hours of direct sunlight. Amend the planting hole with Nature's Blend or Cotton Boll Compost and mulch the base of the plant to prevent weeds, keep the soil moist and add extra winter protection.

For established mums: Pinch back growth periodically through mid-July. Pinching will produce more blooms and a bushier plant.

Fertilize properly: For healthier plants with thick stems and dark green foliage; fertilize regularly. Use a slow-release fertilizer like Milorganite or Family Tree Nursery's General-Purpose fertilizer once a month.

Bloom time: Mums are classified as early, mid, or late season bloomers; however, use this distinction to coordinate season-long color, not to pinpoint an exact bloom date. Mums are highly dependent on temperature for blooming.

To overwinter mums: Plant your mums as soon as possible. Leave foliage up through winter for extra protection, mulch heavily after the ground freezes and water monthly through winter.

Designer Tip: Mums will continue to bloom in the shade if buds are already half open- any green buds will not open without direct sunlight. So, feel free to add mums anywhere inside or out!
