

FALL INTEREST

The shorter days and cool temperatures that signal the coming of fall can be bittersweet for some gardeners. It is the end of another season. But although many plants are settling in for slumber, others are just getting going!

Fall color is not usually considered when selecting plants, we are focused more on bloom time and growth rate; but incorporating fall color plants into the landscape is important for season long interest.

FOLIAGE/FLOWERS

Perennials

Amsonia
Aster
Chelone
Clematis paniculata

FOLIAGE

Shrubs

Azalea
Clethra
Fothergilla
Gaultheria

